

Legal English courses and resources

The Unie podnikových právníků ČR, through the European Company Lawyer Association (ECLA/AEJE), has entered into an alliance partnership with TransLegal, a world leader in Legal English, to provide you with free and discounted Legal English materials.

Based on nearly two decades of experience teaching Legal English to thousands of European attorneys, TransLegal is an expert on the Legal English problems faced by European lawyers.

TransLegal has now produced an exclusive website of Legal English resources for ECLA members. The site is called ECLALINGUA and is found at www.ecla.org/eclalingua.php

The online resources include:

- an online Legal English course designed for company lawyers
- the world's only online Legal English magazine
- a Legal English research course
- English grammar summaries and online language tools
- a collection of online glossaries assembled specifically with in-house counsel in mind

Also, TransLegal offers ECLA Members a 25% discount on the following products and services:

International Legal English

TransLegal's bestselling book, International Legal English, published by Cambridge University Press is the definitive book for those needing to work in the international legal community. Suitable for self study, this book is also ideal for preparation for the new Cambridge International Legal English Certificate (ILEC). You can read more about the book on ECLA's website by choosing Benefits for Members/Books & Literature on the main menu.

Legal English Seminars from TransLegal

Half-day, whole-day or two-day seminars and lectures on special topics in Legal English, including custom presentations in diverse areas such as the Legal English of current trends in the law, Legal English in specific practice areas, legal translation techniques, or legal language management.

You can read more about the book on ECLA's website by choosing Benefits for Members/Seminars & Conferences on the main menu.
